

Boys & Girls Club of Greater Lowell - April, 2025

The Boys & Girls Club of Greater Lowell is proud to announce its 2025 Youth of the Year: Jayden Stella!

Jayden is a senior at Lowell High School who has been working part-time as youth leader for the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Lowell for almost 3 years, and has been a part of the mock trial team at school. In the fall he will attend Middlesex Community College as part of their fire protection and safety technology program. Here he is pictured with President of MCC, Phil Sisson, who was there to congratulate Jayden on his win!

Congratulations are due, too, to the extraordinary finalists, Kevin Tuon, Napoleon Daniels, and Hadassa Pelissier who exemplify the qualities of leadership, service, dedication to living a healthy lifestyle, and academic excellence the Club looks for in a Youth of the Year.

The Club is immensely grateful for the support from outstanding community leaders Tara Hong, Cesar Arboleda, Robin Jones and Ineabelle Dominguez who served as judges for Youth of the Year 2025.

Judicial Outreach Month Speaker

District Court Judge Kimberly Foster spoke with Club teens as part of Judicial Outreach Month, offering a glimpse into the inner workings of the justice system through an interactive discussion.

"It's very important for the public to understand what we do, and to meet us," Foster said. "Especially with young kids, just to open a window maybe, and have them start thinking that this is something they could do." Read the Lowell Sun Article here.
